The wet weather is spoiling much of the wheat crop in this neighborhood, particularly that which is cut and lying in the field.

In some of the Swiss valleys the inhabitants are afflicted with goitre or "thick neck." Instead of regarding this as a deformity they seem to think it a natural feature of physical development, and tourists passing through the valley are sometimes jested by the goitrous inhabitants, because they are without this offensive swelling. Thus a form of disease may become so common that it is regarded as a natural and necessary condition of life. It is so, to a large extent, with what are called diseases of women. Every woman suffers more or less from irregularity, ulceration, debility, drains, or female weakness, and this affliction is so common and so universal that many women accept it as a condition natural and necessary to their sex. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the delicate womanly organs and regularizes the womanly functions, so that woman is practically delivered from the pain and misery which eat up ten years of her life—between the ages of fifteen and forty-five. Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well.

MAYDOLE'S HAMMER.

(Gerson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

When Maydole was told that he made "a pretty good hammer," he said, "No, I don't make a 'pretty good hammer.' I make the best hammer that ever was made."

Every carpenter who saw a Maydole hammer, said it was the best of the best material, perfectly balanced, and the head never flew off. Hammers were divided into two classes—1st, Maydole's; 2d, all the rest. Plasters are separated by the same line of cleavage. 1st, Benson's Plaster; 2d, all the rest. When, for rheumatic pain, a cold, a cough, kidney trouble, or any other disease or ailment that may be treated externally, you ask for a plaster, you ask for Benson's Plaster. Benson's Plaster will give you a Benson's Plaster. He knows it is incomparably the best, and he assumes that you know it too. As the name of Maydole stood for hammers the name of Benson stands for plasters—the "real thing." All the medicinal plasters that are valuable in a plaster are in Benson's. Capicum, Strengthening and Balladon plasters are out of date. An army of physicians and druggists, and millions of the people, have written of Benson's Plaster as a remedy to be trusted. Benson's Plaster has fifty-five highest awards. Accept no substitute. For sale by all druggists, or we will pay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 10c. each. 220 MILL ST., BRISTOL.

News of the County

DOYLESTOWN.

Property in the manufacturing line seems to have struck Doylestown. Owing to increase of business, E. H. Buckman & Co., proprietors of our extensive planing mill, are adding to the resources of their plant and will put in over a thousand dollars' worth of new machinery. It may be necessary to increase the size of the mill in the near future.

Five persons were received into membership at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday when communion services were held. In the evening a quarterly song service was held, which was made especially interesting by the presence of a number of strangers. "The Holy City" was sung by Edward McDonald, of Philadelphia, who has a fine bass voice.

Doylestown appears to be making a record in the way of ball playing. In former years, when the local nine made a specialty of the sport, they were frequently defeated, but now, when only an open field and a free-for-all show except some contributions are as tossed into the hat, the Doylestown boys appear to be invincible. They have defeated all-comers, the last being the Parkside nine in a score of 11 to 7.

After a separation of 28 years, John C. Cumpie, of Doylestown, had the strange experience of meeting his brother here, neither having any knowledge of the other's whereabouts. The brother, who had been in the army, came from Cleveland, Ohio, and both men were greatly surprised when the meeting took place. They are natives of Germany, and in Germany had been separated since the fact that they were brothers was established.

The introductory sermon of Rev. Samuel A. Bridger Stopp, the new pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, was preached by him on Sunday. The pulpit and chancel were decorated with flowers in honor of the occasion and a large number of people were present. The subject of the discourse was "Worthy of the Vocation."

The pastor said that the many, heretofore, is required of him who is called to Christ, and that in assuming charge of the church he was conscious of the fact that he should recognize this.

Company G has been having an active time preparatory to going into camp this week. The drills have been well attended and the company is in excellent condition. Field exercises which were witnessed by a large crowd. The programme included extended order of drill and a charge on an imaginary enemy, which was accompanied by a great display of blank cartridges. The men were in their new field outfits, which are very business like and serviceable. The company will go into camp at Parkside on Saturday morning.

A meeting of the Democratic County Committee took place here on Monday for the purpose of fixing dates for conventions. An effort was made by Joseph G. Broadhurst, of Langhorne, to have the State Delegates' convention held at Doylestown at the same time and place. Mr. Broadhurst, evidently believes in saving time and money, but in his laudable ambition he was defeated after an address by Henry A. James, who opposed the motion upon the ground that it was a good thing for Democrats to get together as often as possible. The State delegates convention was fixed for Monday, August 6, and the county convention for Monday, September 10, in primary election to take place the preceding Saturday from 4 to 8 o'clock. The Republican State delegates convention will also occur on August 6. This is probably the first time in many years that the two parties have fixed conventions for the same day.

Clerk Elmer E. Funk, of the County Commissioners' office, has prepared another statement of interest to the taxpayer. It shows the entire amount of taxes collected or worked out for the maintenance of State, county, city, ward, borough and township governments, and in part is as follows:

The amount collected for the construction and repairs to bridges, streets and roads was $69,940.91, of which the largest amount, $10,658.36, comes from Bristol. Quakertown furnishes the next largest $7,745.91, and Doylestown comes third with $7,711.91.

For schools and school purposes, not including any appropriation received from the State, the taxes amount to $133,164.78. The amount of taxes for any purpose not included in the foregoing, reached the sum of $165,822.38, and the total amount of taxes as set forth in the preceding figures, $458,928.08.

Personal property was taxed to the amount of $46,520.88. The amount of taxes collected on occupations was $30,874.06.

Licenses of all kinds, including wholesale and retail liquor licenses, brought in the sum of $26,415.89.

The amount of taxes collected on the real estate of railroad corporations was $1,190.55, and that collected on the real estate of corporations other than railroads, $1,345.65.

Trolley litigation occupied the attention of the public on Thursday last week. An injunction was granted by the court restraining the Doylestown and Easton Company from passing the Mercer property north of town. This property is a fine country seat, and right of way had been granted on one side to the Doylestown and Willow Grove Company, but the owner did not wish to completely surround and refused the Easton Company's petition. The company broke ground up to the property on both sides, and fearing they would trespass the injunction was asked for and granted. In the meantime the company had extended its route, which followed it transpired that the Easton Company, in describing an extension of route, had made a mistake in the name of a public road, a slip due to ignorance concerning local geography. It is said the error may involve a nice question as to whether the act provided for clear description of routes has been complied with. In the meantime the Willow Grove Company has alluded in and obtained from the Supervisors of Doylestown township the right of way over a part of the Easton Company's route. The latter company, it is believed, will have no objection to the Willow Grove Company's route, but the Easton Company at present is tied up in a bad place unless they decide to abandon the route north of town and they get beyond the disputed points, which they can do by constructing their road on another street. The Willow Grove Company has filed a new extension out Court street from Main to the eastern line of the borough and thence to the Doylestown and Danboro turnpike and north on the pile to the swamp road and west on the latter to the Doylestown and Danboro turnpike. These extensions cover the disputed points, and the Doylestown and Danboro turnpike. The Willow Grove Company is putting in poles for the extension in the borough completed a week ago, and the Easton Company is still gazing north of town.

What was a bad design, and to speak plain truth he had a very good one. The Doylestown and Danboro turnpike.

Leon, the four-year-old son of Frank Anderson, of Yardley, met with a severe accident Friday afternoon. The boy was riding on a farm wagon when he was jolted off and in falling was caught on a hook. The hook entered the lower part of his abdomen. In the position the boy remained until his cries brought assistance. He was attended by Dr. E. C. Hancock and is now thought to be out of danger.

The remains of Spencer W. Buckman, son of Charles Buckman, of Trenton, who died in California, were buried in the Morrisville cemetery on Monday. Mr. Buckman was for some years a resident of a tour of Arizona and California for his health and for several months lived in a tent in the Redwood section of California. About six weeks ago he was visited by his son and daughter, who were very much improved. Shortly after his parents' departure he was taken with a sinking spell of consumption and died suddenly last week.

The people of Morrisville and Yardley are wondering when the trolley company that operates the line between the points named is going to resume running its cars. The road has not been in operation for several days, and all sorts of rumors are being sent the rounds as to why such a condition prevails. Some say the cars are not being run on account of the burning out of an armature at the power house of the company. Other say the road suspended owing to other causes. Those in a position to know say the burning out of the armature is the real reason, why the operations of the road were stopped, and that as soon as the necessary repairs are completed the car will be sent out again.

The Rev. Jennings, formerly of the Morrisville Presbyterian church, and the winner of the Y. M. C. A. tennis championship three years ago, is a contestant in a tournament in progress at the Germantown Cricket Club. The event is a handicap tournament, and Dr. Jennings is placed at one 18. He is playing a fine game and has won a lot of his matches up to date, but the odds are against him. Dr. Jennings is a brilliant smashing player, the year he won the championship of the local Y. M. C. A. He had to defeat all of the good men including George Buckman, Dr. Ingram, Dr. Anderson, Mr. Caldwell and Owen Moon.

A very interesting law suit came up before Justice of the Peace B. F. Taylor last Thursday afternoon. The Commonwealth, represented by Dr. Fullmer, accused Cooper & Murray, of Trenton, with transporting the cattle into Pennsylvania without the subordination certificate. P. F. Gilkeson, of Bristol, was the counsel for the defendant and Mr. Barclay for the Commonwealth. The cattle were sold on the farm of Mr. Barclay, near the Bristol Driving Park, and claimed by Dr. Fullmer not to have been properly inspected. Several witnesses were called and testified to having bought cattle at the sale, but could not see but that they were in every way healthy. Dr. W. H. Cooper, when called, testified that he tested the cattle and also produced the certificates as to his eligibility for testing cattle, being secretary of the Board of New Jersey on tuberculosis. Mr. Gilkeson made a plea to have the case closed and discharge the defendants but Mr. Barclay wanted the case laid over. The case was held in $200 bail to appear at the September court.

Quite a large number of relatives and friends of the couple were present at the ceremony. The contest between John T. Fish, of Fallington, and Frank P. Bell, of Bristol, for delegate-at-large is on and on to a finish. Last Tuesday it looked as though the white winged dove of peace might appear in the clouds, and a compromise candidate be taken up. The overtures of the leaders in favor of harmony, while kindly received by Mr. Fish and his friends, were rejected by Mr. Bell and his friends. The contest will continue until the support of the leaders of the State organization has proved a lamentable failure. Anyone with common sense knows that those leaders are not so much in support of the people who nominated them last winter. Fish stands for straight Republicanism pure and simple. The indications at present are that he will win hands down. He is gaining strength every day, and his friends are in progress at the burning out of an armature at the power house of the company. Other say the road suspended owing to other causes. Those in a position to know say the burning out of the armature is the real reason, why the operations of the road were stopped, and that as soon as the necessary repairs are completed the car will be sent out again.

THE REPUBLICAN ELECTIONS OF BRISTOL COUNTY.

I am directed by the Republican County Committee to announce the Republican election of Bristol County for the coming year. The election will be held on Monday, August 13th, 1901, at 10:30 A. M. for the purpose of electing five delegates to represent them in the Republican State Convention to be held at Harrisburg on Wednesday, August 15th, 1901. The order of the Republican County Committee is as follows: JAMES H. W. SHELLEY, Chairman. Geo. W. McLintock, A. Harry Johnston, Secretaries.

Some men are born leaders—born to lead others into a state of misery and unhappiness.

The "dry" spell was broken last Sunday at Atlantic City and the foam lashed over the bar as of yore.

The latest abuse of our enemies will not hurt us so much in the estimation of the discerning as the injudicious praise of our friends.

Whatever they may think of the American system of government, the citizens of Havana must admire the American plan of acquisition.

Last year the Dingley tariff produced custom receipts of $238,000,000, and it didn't take the foreign trade either, our exports amounting to more than $1,500,000,000—a record-breaking total.

Turn Johnson's political star seems to be in the ascendency. He has ability and energy and the confidence of those who know him. Democracy is fond of facts, and Cleveland's Mayor can undoubtedly pay the last.

George G. Fetterolf, editor of the Langhorne Standard, says there is no truth in the report that he has withdrawn as a candidate for the nomination for Treasurer of Bucks County. Mr. Fetterolf will undoubtedly withdraw later in the campaign.

Mr. Bryan is quoted as saying that the Ohio Democratic Convention made the mistake of making a personal assault upon him when the money question is the real issue. Does Mr. Bryan wish to infer that he believes in placing the dollar ahead of the meat?

Because he was ambitious has been the slogan for an onslaught upon many a good man in the political arena. The distinction between those who oppose and those who aspire, in the matter of personal ambition is relative and not material, in an ambition scene.

Recently a newspaper more artful than its own office, says the New York Tribune. There are more mistakes than the headlines public ever finds out. Of the kind which a newspaper demands, of the "unpleasant attention which it exacts, of the tediousness which it requires, the great public of readers takes no account.

The Blair county Democrats met in convention on Monday, Judge Yerkes, of Bucks, was endorsed for Justice of the Supreme Court, and E. A. Coray, Jr., Insurance Commissioner, was elected to be the choice for State Treasurer. The Blair county delegates to the Democratic State Convention will support these candidates.

Just as the Democratic leaders were about to make up their minds that they would be forced, for want of a better idea, to fall back on free trade for the campaign three years hence, the discouraging word comes from the solid South that it does not want any more of free trade. The issue hunters will have to start on a new scout.

The announcement of Samuel A. Kraus, candidate for the nomination of Register of Wills, subject to the rules of the Republican county convention, appears in this issue. Mr. Kraus is a resident of Quakertown borough, and is a thorough Republican and abundantly able to successfully transact the business of the office to which he aspires.

The Democratic party is undergoing a process of reorganization—in the East. Bryanism is being ruthlessly kicked out of the fold by the monied leaders. The millions of plain people who voted for Bryan because they believed in the man and who take no part in shaping State platforms have not been taken into consideration. The "re-organizers" will probably get their bumps later on.

The Lansdale Republican does not take kindly to the Harrisburg News' suggestion that Assemblyman McGilghey can have the Senatorial nomination for the coming year. The Republican vigorously calls attention to the fact that William D. Hoehner is a candidate and is going to "make the fight of his life" to get the nomination. The Lansdale Reporter is laying low and not saying a word.

In electing a delegate to the National Convention of 1900, factional lines were dropped and the Republicans of Bucks county united upon a candidate to represent the district. This year in choosing a delegate-at-large to the State convention, the indications are that old scores, that have never thoroughly healed, will be kept open and cauterized. The prospect is gloomy to those of a peaceful disposition and who have an aversion to a "right fight with their friends and neighbors." But it seems to be a veritable will-o'-the-wisp in Bucks county politics.

Heroes and idols, with the American public, are placed upon pedestals of staff, upon to crumble and let the object of adoration fall ignominiously to the earth. Power, Eternity and Roosevelt were the pedestals of fabled adoration. Now, as the heroes of the past, they have been discarded and the new idols are being set up. A few months ago William D. Hoehner was the choice of over seven thousand voters for President of the United States. Today the very people who elected him are looking for an intervention of the State with wild horses and the "right fight with their friends and neighbors." But it seems to be a veritable will-o'-the-wisp in Bucks county politics.

Power will intoxicate the best hearts as wine the strongest heads. No man is wise enough nor good enough to be trusted with unlimited power; for, whatever qualifications he may have evinced to entitle him to the possession of so dangerous a privilege, yet, when possessed, others can no longer answer for him, because he can no longer answer for himself.

No man deserves the title of infidel so little as those to whom it has been usually applied; let any of those who renounce Christianity write fairly down in a book all the absurdities that they believe instead of say that they will find that it requires more faith to reject Christianity than to accept it.

BELL-FISH CONTEST.

In view of the fact that there are strong probabilities that a bitter factional fight will be waged within the ranks of the Republican party in Bucks during the coming year, the Gazette feels that it would be adding a duty if it did not spread before the people a few facts concerning the impending contest.

Several weeks ago, Frank F. Bell, of Bristol, upon the earnest solicitation of many of the leading and active Republicans of the county, consented to allow himself to become a candidate for delegate-at-large to the State convention, subject to the will of the party. His candidacy met with approval throughout the county, and there were no evidences of opposition to his selection until a few days ago when one, John T. Fish, was sprung upon the public as an antagonist to Mr. Bell.

Mr. Fish is not sincerely seeking the honor to represent the county but his candidacy is the inspiration of personal animosity, and his campaign has been waged with the single purpose of compelling Mr. Bell to withdraw from the field in favor of a third person.

Mr. Bell is a business man, has no ambition for leadership, and seeks no office, and only consented to stand as a candidate for delegate with the distinct understanding that there would be no contest. But having a degree of moral pride and imbued with a sense of manhood, he refuses to be driven from the field at the eleventh hour, by one who is considered to be a political slayer of fortune.

On the other hand Mr. Fish and his friends declare that Mr. Bell, by reason of his identification with the "insurgent" movement, had no right to appear as a candidate and acted in a presumptuous manner in seeking to represent the Republicans of Bucks county in State convention.

Mr. Fish, claiming to be a stalwart, is of the opinion that none but Quay men should be placed on guard.

Assuming that Messrs. Bell and Eastburn belong to that class of Republicans designated as "insurgents," the candidates for State delegates, not counting Mr. Fish, represent three Quaysites and two Anti-Quaysites.

It is likely that Mr. Fish's friends will make the hardest fight in Mr. Bell's home ward in Bristol. The contest is on, and while there is not the slightest doubt as to the result, it is an unfortunate thing that the Republicans of this county cannot learn to live in peace and harmony.

REFLECTIONS OF A PHILOSOPHER.

Attempts at reform, when they fail, strengthen despotism; as he that struggles tightens those cords he does not succeed in breaking.

In naval architecture the rudder is first fitted in, and then the hull is put around it, and, last of all, the oar and the sail. It is far otherwise in the fitting up and forming of man; he is launched into life with the cargo of his faculties aboard, and all the sails of his passions set; but it is the long and painful work of his life to acquire the ballast of experience, and to form the rudder of reason, hence it too often happens that his frail vessel is shipwrecked before he has laid in the necessary quantity of ballast, or that he has been to long in completing the rudder, that the vessel is become to crazy to benefit by its application.

We must suit the flattery to the mind and taste of the recipient. We do not put essence into hogheads, nor porter into phials. Delicate minds may be disgusted by compliments that would please a grosser intellect, as some fine ladies who would be shocked at the idea of a mug of beer do not refuse a liqueur. Some, indeed, there are who profess to despise flattery, but even these are, nevertheless, to be flattered by being told that they despise it.

Expense of thought is the rarest prodigality, and to dare to live alone the rarest courage; since there are many who would rather meet their bitterest enemy in the field than their own hearts in their closet. He that has no resources of mind is more to be pitied than he who is in want of necessities for the body, and to be obliged to beg our daily happiness from others bespeaks a more lamentable poverty than that of him who begs his daily bread.

As there are some faults that have been termed faults on the right side, so there are some errors that might be denominated errors on the safe side. Thus we seldom regret having been too mild, too cautious, or too humble; but we often repeat having been too violent, too precipitate, or too proud.

It is an easy and a vulgar thing to please the mob, and not a very arduous task to astonish them; but, essentially to benefit and to improve them is a work fraught with difficulty, and teeming with danger.

Let those who would affect singularity with success, first determine to be very virtuous, and they will be sure to be very singular.

There is this difference between hatred and pity—pity is a thing often sowed, seldom felt; hatred is a thing often felt, seldom avowed.

Those who benevolence unto themselves a pompous funeral are at just as much expense to inform the world of something that had much better have been concealed—namely, that their vanity has survived them.

He that has never known adversity, is but half acquainted with others, or with himself. Constant success shows us but one side of the world. For, as it surrounds us with friends, who will tell us only of our merits, so it alienates those enemies from whom alone we can learn our defects.

The death of Jesus is as strong a confirmation of Christianity as the life of Paul.

Power will intoxicate the best hearts as wine the strongest heads. No man is wise enough nor good enough to be trusted with unlimited power; for, whatever qualifications he may have evinced to entitle him to the possession of so dangerous a privilege, yet, when possessed, others can no longer answer for him, because he can no longer answer for himself.

No man deserves the title of infidel so little as those to whom it has been usually applied; let any of those who renounce Christianity write fairly down in a book all the absurdities that they believe instead of say that they will find that it requires more faith to reject Christianity than to accept it.

MORRISTOWN LETTER.

Morristown, Pa., July 15, 1901.

The drop in the mercury from 100 to 63, like the drop in stocks, is an indication that we are cooled off for the normal coming summer weather. We certainly about Morristown have had an abundance of rain. It commenced a week ago on Sunday when I was treated to three storms in one day coming from Zeligerville on the Perkiomen to Audubon on the banks of the Schuylkill and Perkiomen, and the waters of the Delaware. Did you ever notice how the stock excitement lulls during hot weather? I am no gambler, but this season of the year is a good time to buy stocks—if you have the money to invest. I have observed it for years. But the speculators and combines are unscrupulous, and no man, unskilled in gambling should venture in merely for the sake of the venture, in the hope of gain. But he who has cash to be converted into an investment in stocks should seize the opportunity now, and not wait till the heavy man comes with their checks and heaps to make huge fortunes, or lose them, in a week.

On Tuesday, the 24th of this month, our Republican county convention will elect delegates to the State Convention, but while the reporters make the newspapers say there is a great strife among the candidates to go, there is no truth in it. No strife in many of our lawless, and the Ex-District Attorney Struhsenger and Wanger are in Europe; Childs and Gibson are at Collegeville; Judge Swartz is off to the North Pole, or with a fishing outfit, and Dr. Elwood Gerson is in California, while all the others are or will be away, so how the convention fares, no one knows and no one cares. The leaders will name the candidates at Harrisburg, and the delegates will certify what has been said in the Ex-District Attorney Struhsenger and Wanger are in Europe; Childs and Gibson are at Collegeville; Judge Swartz is off to the North Pole, or with a fishing outfit, and Dr. Elwood Gerson is in California, while all the others are or will be away, so how the convention fares, no one knows and no one cares.
